Two Alarm Fire, Chinatown, San Francisco, San Francisco County

On 02/03/17 a Two-Alarm fire displaced residents from a two story Chinatown building, as a result the American Red Cross and Salvation Army have established a shelter to assist them.

- Salvation Army Chinatown Corp, 1450 Powell Street, San Francisco
  - Midnight Shelter Count: 15

Oroville Dam Spillway Incident

- On 02/07/17 at 1000 hours, the Department of Water Resources (DWR) notified the California State Warning Center of an issue with the main spillway at Oroville Dam.
  - At this time, there is no concern with the Dam itself. There is no impact to the public.
  - The decision was made by all stakeholders including DWR leadership, DWR-DSOD (Division of Safety of Dams), with Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) consultation, to continue flows of 20,000 CFS through today at 0730 hours. There was 24/7 monitoring of the spillway through the night. If the situation changes for the worse, the field may make a decision to shut flows off.
  - At 0730 hours the spillway was shut down and the damage will be assessed. There is a potential that if damage is within the acceptable thresholds after the overnight release, that the flows may be increased by 5,000-10,000 CFS (on top of the 20,000 CFS release) to keep up with inflows expected in the next few days and coming week. This will give the dam some breathing room and may push back a few days when the dam reaches capacity. This will be discussed tomorrow morning if the spillway is stable.
  - DWR-DSOD Engineers are on site and assessing the incident and will provide an update as information is available

Key Points

More rain and snow for California with periods of strong gusty winds today through Friday. Precipitation will pick up late this afternoon and evening as the next major storm starts to move through California. Snow levels will remain very high through Thursday (around 7500 feet) before falling to 4000 feet Friday. Here are the key points with this storm:

- Flooding possible along unregulated rivers, streams, roadways, and low-lying areas today – Friday.
- Rockslides and mudslides possible, especially along mountain slopes and steep grades today – Friday.
- Debris flows also possible over burn scars with periods of brief heavy rain (greater than 0.50" per hour) Friday.
- Heavy snow will cause hazardous travel over Sierra passes with travel delays likely Thursday – Friday.
- Winds will be strong enough to down trees and cause prolonged power outages Thursday.
- Thunderstorms are possible Friday, with the potential for small hail, very gusty winds, and flash flooding.

CDPH INFLUENZA AND ZIKA UPDATES

INFLUENZA EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

California continues to see higher than expected levels of hospitalization for influenza or influenza-like illness (ILI). While influenza activity varies from year to year and is unpredictable, California generally sees an increase in cases in late December or early January and it often peaks in February or March. The Hemagglutinin 3 and Neuraminidase 2 (H3N2) strain appears to be the predominant strain so far this influenza season and this strain is contained in the current influenza vaccine.

The Medical and Health Coordination Center (MHCC) continues to remain activated in response to the increase in ILI and medical surge occurring throughout California. The MHCC will distribute a Public Health and Medical (Emergency Function 8) Situation Report related to influenza on Wednesday of every week until conditions improve and stabilize.

The MHCC has received one local situation report (San Joaquin County) in the last operational period. There are no resource requests or significant impacts requiring state assistance at this time.

ZIKA EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The Medical and Health Coordination Center (MHCC) continues to be activated in response to the Zika virus disease. The California Department of Public Health (CDPH) and Emergency Medical Services Authority (EMSA) are currently the only Emergency Function 08 (EF 08) partners at the state level reporting on this activation.

The MHCC is coordinating with EF 08 partners, healthcare facilities and local health departments (LHDs) to ensure responses are timely and accurate.

CDPH and EMSA Duty Officer Programs are monitoring the Zika virus disease outbreak after hours and remain in communication with the Regional Disaster Medical and Health Coordination (RDMHC) and the Medical Health Operational Area Coordination (MHOAC) Programs throughout California.

As of Friday, February 3, 2017, there have been 486 travel-associated Zika virus infections in California. This number reflects an increase of 14 from the 472 cases reported on the last situation report. CDPH centers and programs continue to monitor Zika virus disease and provide information to the MHCC related to their specific activities on a weekly basis.

WEATHER OF CONCERN

Weather of Concern

- A series of atmospheric rivers are impacting California through 02/10/17.

Active Weather Warnings, Watches and Advisories by County:

http://www.wrh.noaa.gov/sto/brief/wwa\_bc\_cal.php

WEATHER SYNOPSIS BY REGION

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA

The storm system moving into Northern California today will continue to produce moderate to heavy precipitation with snow levels above 7000 feet. SE to SW winds will gust to 50-60 mph in many open areas and 80 mph or higher in the most wind-prone mountain locations. The main cold front associated with this storm is still offshore, but it will move through the region from west to east later today. Once the front passes winds will diminish and turn W-NW and snow levels will begin to drop as the steady precipitation turns to showers. Snow levels will gradually drop to 3000 feet in the north and 4500 feet in the south by midday Friday as widespread showers continue in the mountains and scattered showers continue in the valleys. Showers will come to an end prior to sunrise Saturday. High pressure will move overhead Saturday through Tuesday and produce warm and dry conditions with occasionally gusty N-E/offshore surface winds from the western Sierra slopes to the coast. On Wednesday the next approaching Pacific storm system will begin to spread clouds and increasing southerly winds over the region, and rain may move onshore overnight. That storm system is expected to impact the region through Friday, followed by another one a couple days later.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

A Pacific trough dropping down the West Coast will bring a period of rain to Central California starting this afternoon and to Southern California starting Friday morning. After the cold front passes, scattered showers will continue across most of the area through Saturday afternoon. Most foothill and mountain locations across Central California will receive between 2 and 5 inches of rainfall, while the rest of the area away from the deserts will receive between 0.50 and 1.5 inches of rainfall. The snow level will initially start above 8,000 feet and then drop to between 5,000 and 6,000 feet by Saturday morning. South to west winds of 20 to 30 mph with gusts to 50 mph will surface across the wind prone mountain and desert areas this afternoon through Saturday morning. Temperatures will be 10 to 15 degrees above normal today, with upper 50s and 60s across the mountains and 70s to low 80s in the valleys. Temperatures will cool to near normal Friday and 5 to 10 degrees below normal Saturday. A ridge of high pressure will build into the West Coast bringing significant warming and drying to the region Sunday and Monday. Temperatures will be around 10 degrees above normal Monday through Wednesday. Minimum humidity will be mainly in the single digits and teens away from the San Joaquin Valley and coast Monday through the middle of next week. North to northeast winds of 20 to 40 mph with gusts to 60 mph will surface across the mountains and below the canyons and passes of Southern California Saturday night through Monday morning.
